Samriddh Bhatla

T&T Intern @ Deloitte India | TIET'25
Delhi, India

Summary

I am a highly driven individual with an exceptional capacity for learning and a deep-seated commitment to fostering positive societal change. Over the past six years, I have gained substantial exposure and developed a strong understanding across diverse domains such as Information Technology, gaming, project management, and design. Beyond these professional pursuits, I am deeply passionate about robotics and badminton, and I enjoy the intellectual rigor of strategic gaming.

Currently, I am broadening my horizons by delving into consultancy, preparing for project management, and gaining nuanced insights into the dynamics of the corporate world. My multifaceted interests and experiences reflect a blend of adaptability, intellectual curiosity, and a genuine desire to contribute meaningfully to every endeavour I undertake.
